SUNDAY TEACHING

As we continue our study through the book of Acts and start chapter 21, Paul is making his way towards Jerusalem and walking obediently in what he believes is the will of God for his life. However, the pressure is building. In every city the Holy Spirit, through other Christians is testifying, there is trouble ahead. Paul is heading into a storm. Trouble awaits him in Jerusalem.

Now, to make this even more challenging, some of the people who love the Lord and love Paul, they are interpreting the Holy Spirit's warnings, "trouble ahead", as a message to Paul that he's not supposed to go at all. How does Paul work through all of that? What does Paul decide to do?

Read ahead and join us this Sunday!
